CHAIR WITH AN

VL1100, also known as the “eye chair”, is an expressive dining chair designed by Vermund Larsen in 1956. VL1100 is an impressive dining chair that immediately catches attention with its unique, organically shaped backrest. The chair exudes elegance with its combination of complementary materials: FSC-certified wood, conical-shaped steel legs, and seat upholstery in fabric or leather.

The chair has excellent seating comfort and provides perfect back support. The seat provides excellent comfort in different seating positions, and the rounded top and “eye” carvings on the moulded, wooden backrest create energy in the chair’s visual expression.

Originally created in fibreglass and steel, the VL1100 was the culmination of several years of work with fibreglass as a formative expression. In this reinterpretation of the VL1100, a fibreglass shell has been chosen in favour of natural materials such as wood and leather.

A TRIBUTE TO VERMUND LARSEN

VERMUND LARSEN A/S was established in 1935 in the northern part of Denmark. The company was founded by Mr. Vermund Larsen. Mr. Larsen passed away in 1970, but the company lives and works in his spirit and tradition.

Mr. Larsen was an interior architect by education and an entrepreneur by heart. He became one of the pioneers behind ergonomically correct office chairs, and he was passionate about design, form and function. This passion for creating beautiful products was an essential driver for him. Currently VERMUND thrives as a company, working with seating as a focus competence. The company is diversified in three business units, all with design, functionality and high-end quality as a common denominator.

VERMUND is the business unit caring for design furniture and is a tribute to Vermund Larsen. The chairs are all designed and manufactured in Denmark, upholding our tradition for handcraft and beautiful furniture.
